The Pilot Who Ignored the Warning

In the mid 1980s, an Avianca Airlines jet crashed in the mountains of Spain. Investigators reviewing the incident made a startling discovery. Recordings from the black box revealed that several minutes prior to impact, a computer-synthesized voice from the plane's automatic warning system told the flight crew on repeated occasion to "Pull up!" The pilot, evidently thinking that the system was not functioning properly, switched the system off. Minutes later they crashed into the ground killing passengers as well as crew.

It may be true that "all roads lead to Rome" even if part of the way is via the ocean, but it is not true that all religions lead to God and Heaven. When we decide to not listen to what God says about life beyond death, or deem that His Word is incorrect, and make our own rules or decide for ourselves as to what qualifies one for entering God's Heaven, we place ourselves above God and become a god unto ourselves—and are on a direct course for a lost eternity, separated from God and all that is godly and good, in what the Bible calls hell.

Jesus made it very clear when He said: "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." (John 14:16) And God's Word makes it very clear that "it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this not from yourselves, it is the gift of God—not by works, so that no one can boast." (Ephesians 2:8,9)

Just as imperative that pilots listen to their plane's warning system so is it that we listen to God's "warning system" as found in His Word, the Bible. © R W Innes <http://www.actsworld.org>
